What makes Eclipse Digital Assets different than another management firms? How do we approach wealth management at EDA? We dedicated to providing consistent long term results for investors looking to invest in crypto for many years.

Start stable. EDA offers the least amount of risk to invested funds by only investing the interest collected by lending out USDC stable coins. This means that it is very unlikely that anyone will ever lose their initial investment. Only your dividends are deployed into volatile assets.

Our ability to allow each investor to select a risk tier to allocate their stable coin yields in an aggressive tier or in a conservative tier means there's an approach for all. We are here to stay and show that we are the future of the digital asset space.
